

How to buy an ETI via EXANTE

Operational guide reserved for clients of Framont & Partners Management Ltd

Exchange Traded Instruments (ETIs) are listed instruments identified by an ISIN code and tradable through the main brokerage platforms. Alongside Interactive Brokers, ETIs can also be traded through EXANTE, a broker with which ETI orders are placed by phone. This guide explains, step by step, how to open an EXANTE account and place a buy order.

1 Account opening

- Visit exante.eu and start the account application (individual or corporate).
- The account is generally opened within 24–48 hours of submitting the required documentation.
- Enable two-factor authentication (2FA) for secure access.

Important note: opening an account and buying ETIs through EXANTE is reserved for clients with a minimum investment of €50,000.

2 Funding the account

- The account is funded by bank transfer; the minimum amount to trade ETIs is €50,000.
- The account supports multiple currencies; ETIs are often denominated in EUR.

3 Placing the phone order

- ETI buy orders with EXANTE are placed by phone with the trading desk.
- Provide the instrument's ISIN code and the desired quantity or amount.
- Once executed, the order is confirmed and the instrument appears in your portfolio.

4 Support

For any assistance — from account opening to order placement — the Framont & Partners Management team remains at your full disposal at the contact details below.

This document is for information and operational purposes only and does not constitute investment advice, an offer or a solicitation to purchase financial instruments. ETIs are complex instruments intended for investors who understand their characteristics and risks. Before investing, please read the instrument's offering documentation. Framont & Partners Management Ltd is authorised and regulated by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA).