

How to Buy an ETI on Interactive Brokers

Operational guide for clients of Framont & Partners Management Ltd

Exchange Traded Instruments (ETIs) are listed instruments identified by an ISIN code and tradable through the main brokerage platforms. This guide explains, step by step, how to set up an Interactive Brokers (IB) account and place a buy order.

1 Account setup

- Visit interactivebrokers.com and create an account, selecting the Margin account profile.
- Download Trader Workstation (TWS) or the IBKR Mobile app.
- Enable Two-Factor Authentication (2FA) for secure login.

Important note: ETIs are not visible in the Interactive Brokers web version, which only displays the most frequently traded instruments. TWS or IBKR Mobile must be used.

2 Funding your account

- The account is funded via bank wire transfer in EUR, USD, CHF or other currencies.
- Funds typically clear within 1 to 2 business days.
- Multiple currencies can be held and converted within the same account.

3 Required trading permissions

The following asset classes must be enabled in the IB account settings:

- Warrants
- Index Options
- Options (Level 4)
- Complex or Leveraged Exchange Traded Products

Options Level 4 requires a Margin account and experience with derivatives. If the request is denied, permissions can be requested progressively, from Level 1 up to Level 4.

4 Placing the buy order

- Log in to Trader Workstation.
- Select File > Order Entry.
- Enter the instrument's ISIN code.
- Confirm the buy order.

Alternatively, searching by ISIN and trading are also available via IBKR Mobile.

5 Currency handling (FX)

- Currency conversions can be executed directly on the platform.

- ETIs are often EUR-denominated: if the account base currency is USD or CHF, a conversion is required.
- FX trades can be executed manually or set to auto-convert.

6 Tax documentation

Interactive Brokers provides annual tax reports and trade summaries, which may assist with tax filing obligations in the investor's jurisdiction of residence. For specific needs, please consult your tax adviser.

7 Support and troubleshooting

- Login issues: use the backup device or security questions.
- Order rejected: check trading permissions, available margin and market hours.
- IB offers chat and e-mail support, together with extensive help documentation.
